Wins First Prize

Prof. C. H. Moody has just received a letter containing a blue ribbon from the state fair at Nashville, with the statement that this represents the winning of first prize in the corn show on a group exhibit prepared by the students of the class in vocational agriculture of Monroe County Central High School. This was in competition against agricultural departments of other high schools all over the State of Tennessee, hence this is no small honor which has come to Monroe county. The letter states further that Capt. T. F. Peck, state commissioner of agriculture, has chosen this exhibit of corn from the state fair to place on the agricultural demonstration train, which will tour the entire state. In this way Monroe county will get some good advertising over a great deal of territory, especially showing up the splendid work done in the agricultural department of the Madisonville High School.

Last year was the first year for this high school to qualify under the rules of the Federal Board of Vocational Education for federal aid under the Smith-Hughes act of congress. From the work done so far, it seems that here in Madisonville the agricultural department is more than living up to the expectations of the federal board. More than one inspector has stated that some of the best work in the state is being done in Madisonville. Last spring the University of Tennessee paid the expenses of the teacher-training class in agriculture for the trip to Madisonville in order that those who were about to become agricultural teachers might observe the methods followed in our high school. This was quite an honor and compliment highly appreciated, because of such recognition from our state university. Now, with the announcement of winning first prize, a blue ribbon and fifteen dollars from the state fair, we feel just cause for pride. — Madisonville Democrat.

Opals Found in Few Places.
There are known only five gem-opal regions in the entire world. For 500 or 600 years, a deposit in a remote section of northern Hungary has been mined by local peasants. The removal of opals from this region ceased about 20 years ago. For the most part, stones from northern Hungary are milky white.

SUMMER IS PASSING HOTTEST IN 50 YEARS

September and the Entire Summer Were Record Breakers for Hot Weather

The summer of 1921, which is just passing, was the hottest recorded in the past 50 years according to the United States Weather Bureau statistics.

September also starred as a period of highest temperatures. It was a month of excessive heat. There was an excess of heat for twenty-nine days of the month.

Old sol certainly has been shattering his own high marks during the entire summer. There may have been hotter days some time in the past 50 years, but the average is decidedly in favor of the good old year of 1921.

In fact no high temperature records for a single day has been broken this season, the hottest day being July 5, when 98 degrees was reached. On August 11, 1874 the highest temperature recorded 104 degrees in this state. In eleven of the last 50 years the mercury has passed 100 degrees on one or more days, so the government records show.
